Goodroot Clutch Review

" Rondesignlabs employs top-level designers from around the world. I was very impressed with their concepts.

They were also accommodating in meeting out tight timeline, payment schedule needs and high standard for design. The project was broken into 6 weeks.

However, that's not all...

" Rondesignlab divided the project into six weeks of sprints that focused on different sets of screens for the health app. They conducted meetings twice a week and delivered tasks on time. The team's innovative concepts and high design standards highly impressed the client.

The project was broken into 6 weeks of sprints, each focusing on a different set of screens for the app. The primary goal was to design a breakthrough app in the self-funded health benefits space. Speed of completion and top quality design were the primary drivers of success.
